About ACCESS

ACCESS is a national livelihoods support organization, with focus on incubating innovations for sustainable livelihoods of the poor. With support from DFID (Govt. of UK), ACCESS was established in March 2006 as a professional new generation agency to contribute to and support poverty reduction in India.

ACCESS is uniquely structured to work at all levels of the development sector value chain, from implementing programmes on the ground, working with the Civil Society Organizations, Government Departments, Corporate Sector and Multilateral / Bilateral Agencies, and also supporting policy at the national level.

In the last decade, ACCESS has gained recognition for incubating innovations in livelihoods that has helped to move the economic lot of the poor from subsistence to sustainable levels. ACCESS works both in rural as well as in urban areas. Currently, ACCESS has 32 on-going programmes and works in 9 states in India with over 60 full time professionals in managerial positions and 240 field staff to support programme implementation.

ACCESS USP

Over the years, gaining from its experiences, implementing a multitude of programmes in diverse context and geographies, and given its strong professional team; ACCESS has developed certain core competencies, which it applies to its initiatives across the spectrum. Among others, a few areas in which ACCESS has demonstrated core strength, include:

Ability to work at all levels of the sector	Develop “lift and shift” models	Positioned as a gateway agency between the poor and the markets	Ability to work at scale
Build local capacities (capacity building of capacity builders)	Support inclusive value chains, favouring primary producers	Identify and incubate innovations	Invest, incubate and strengthen community based institutions / model

ACCESS Three Tier Approach

ACCESS is structured uniquely to work at all levels of the development sector value chain. In strengthening the livelihoods of the poor for sustainable impact, ACCESS employs a three tier approach.

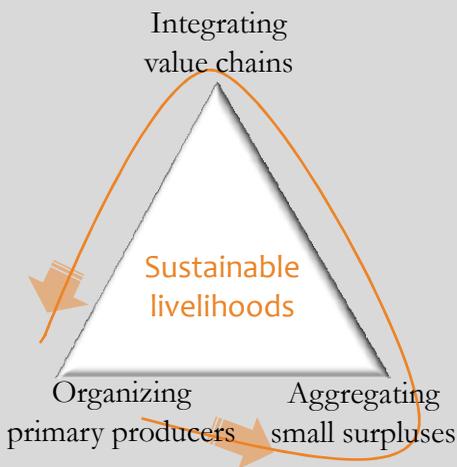

At Tier I, ACCESS implements programmes on the ground, at Tier II it provides technical support to civil society organizations, government departments, corporate sector, and multilateral / bilateral agencies, and at Tier III it engages in national level initiatives.

- Influencing policy
- Informing programmes for the poor
- Empowering communities through establishing community based Social Enterprises
- Enabling access to resources, capital, markets and entitlements
- Programmes that impact livelihoods of the poor

ACCESS Livelihoods Triad

The ACCESS mandate emanates from the analysis that the poor continue to teeter on the brink of subsistence due to lack of access to resources, services, information, finance, markets and entitlements. To help in overcoming these impediments, ACCESS pursues a three-pronged strategy that involves:

- Engaging with primary producers and organizing them into formal community based institutions. Typically ACCESS organizes them into Producer Companies (So far, ACCESS has promoted 117 Producer Companies in five of its nine programme states). Organizing primary producers also helps in economies of scale for procurement of raw material, sharing infrastructure and common facilities, in disseminating training and other interventions, marketing, and broadly helps in empowering communities.
- Aggregation of small surpluses of primary producers into marketable lots helps them better negotiate in the marketplace and also provides them with incentives to seek higher value markets.
- ACCESS also facilitates small producers in their effective integration and participation in value chains. ACCESS builds their capacities to deal with input suppliers, buyers, and technical service providers as also with the government (for their entitlements), among others.

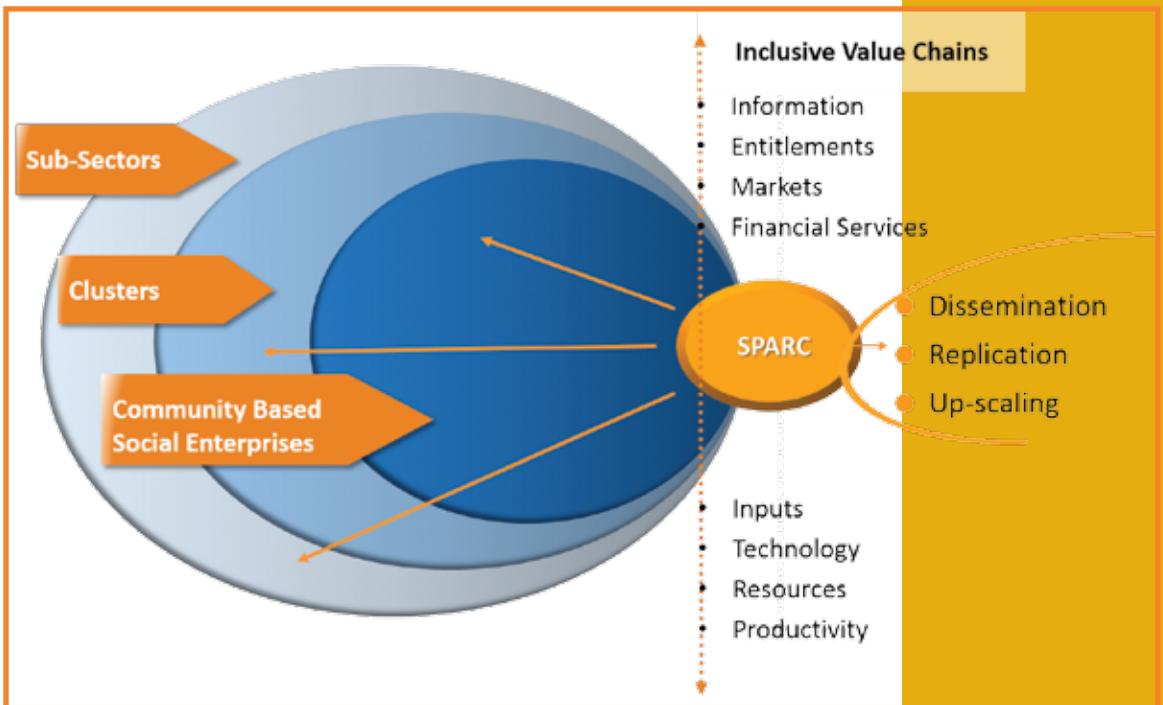

An important ACCESS strategy is to build “inclusive value chains” through which efforts are made to help highest possible benefits of the value chain accrue at the level of production. This is attempted through volume and value strategies; helping in raising productivity and also undertaking certain value addition on site through the community itself.

Seeking Sustainable Impact

ACCESS sub-sector Approach

The adoption of a sub-sector approach by ACCESS is a strategic option, which allows for a focus on specific sub-sectors and helps in strengthening the ecosystem within which livelihoods within a sub-sector are able to transition from a comparative to a competitive advantage and bring economic gains to the region. A sub-sector approach allows for interventions at all levels within the value-chain, from production to policy, for durable outcomes; it provides economies of scale; enables aggregation of resources, helps in organizing demand for inputs and capital; facilitates the establishment of common infrastructure and facilities and opens up an interface with all actors within the value chain. Specific sub-sectors thrive in clusters, and hence also facilitate in bringing communities together and organize them.

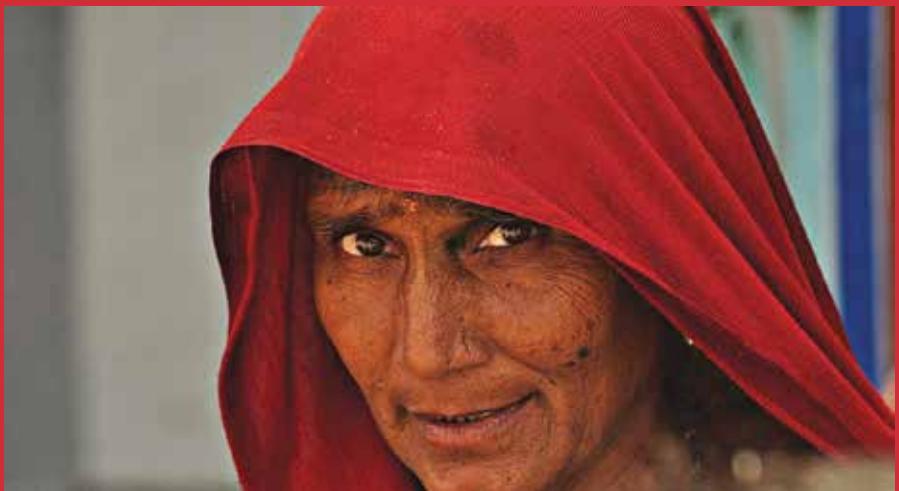

SPARC (Small Producers Assistance Resource Centre)

ACCESS Programme Implementing strategy

Most ACCESS programmes are implemented through a SPARC, which essentially is a clutch of dedicated professionals instituted in the programme location. Relating to the programme, this team of professionals is identified around complementing competencies to provide holistic and integrated services to the primary producers. In addition to providing technical service, SPARC leverages financial and other business services from external agencies in the market. SPARC, thus acts as a gateway agency for the primary producers to access resources, finance, input supplies, technology, information, markets and entitlements.

It is expected that within a short timeframe of three years, the SPARC is well established and is delivering high quality services that help the primary producers to significantly strengthen their livelihoods and make incremental gains. By the time, there is an expectation from most programmes that due to the perceived or realized value that the producers receive from the SPARC and due to benefits from the programmes, post the programme tenure, they are willing to engage with the SPARCS on a cost recovery basis.

Through SPARCs, ACCESS has been able to reach out and strengthen the livelihoods of over 280,000 small producers, establish 119 producer companies and have successfully linked them with input suppliers, finance and markets, as also entitlements.

The Two ACCESS Flagship Initiatives

Over the years, ACCESS has established two flagship initiatives to inform and influence policy and strengthen the enabling environment- the Inclusive Finance India Platform and the Livelihoods Asia Initiative.

Inclusive Finance India is a global policy platform on Financial Inclusion set up with the objective of enabling cross-pollination of best practices and breakthroughs, specifically to influence India's Financial Inclusion strategy and campaign. With its legacy of more than 13 years, Inclusive Finance India has provided substantial evidence, increased guidance and strong articulation for building a strong ecosystem and making key recommendations on financial inclusion policy, regulation, supervision, technology advancements, client protection and institutional framework for stakeholders. In the last three years, the Summit has broadened its ambit; more and more themes related to financial inclusion are deliberated and delved into. The Inclusive India Finance Summit strives to bring all stakeholders together to build a consensus on the strategies and policies for tangible and sustainable financial inclusion. The Inclusive Finance India Summit receives an overwhelming participation from more than 800 delegates and over 100 speakers who contribute to the deliberations and debates across 15 sessions during the two days.

The Inclusive Finance India platform has evolved to comprise of the following sub- initiatives:

- Inclusive Finance India Summit
- Inclusive Finance India State of the Sector Report
- Inclusive Finance India Awards
- Knowledge Fair
- Other Associated Events

Livelihoods Asia

Livelihoods Asia is aimed at supporting, informing and influencing policy, showcasing best practices and addressing key challenges and issues faced by the livelihoods of the poor. Livelihoods Asia Summit is held as an annual event that brings together up to 500 participants and over 70 resource persons, from across the region, on a single platform to discuss critical issues that impede and afflict the livelihoods of the poor and in turn inform policy with the new learning. The mission of Livelihoods Asia Initiative therefore is to create a regional platform that presents opportunities for cross learning and sharing of these unique experiences, both successes and failures within countries in the region. Within Livelihoods Asia Platform, specific sub initiatives have been designed to make this platform an effective bridge for cross learning.

The sub initiatives include:

- Livelihoods Asia Summit
- State of India's Livelihoods (SOIL) Report
- Livelihoods Asia Case Study Competition

The ACCESS Universe

While ACCESS was set up in 2006, over a period of time, as it evolved, it was felt that for sustainable outcomes, institutional mechanisms, rather than ephemeral project based interventions would be more appropriate. In addition to the need for composite models for engaging with and hand-holding the community, finance and markets were seen as two critical challenges for primary producers. Appropriately, ACCESS established a few specialized affiliates to address these impediments.

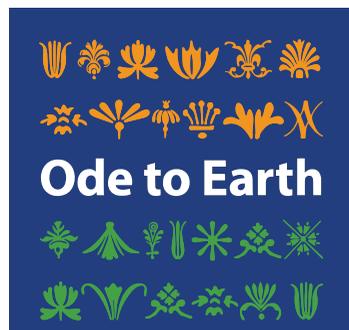

Specialized Affiliates

ACCESS ASSIST is a specialized affiliate of ACCESS that works towards financial inclusion of the poor. Through a series of tailor-made interventions that support financial literacy and education, ASSIST seeks to bridge the hiatus between the supply and demand sides and bring the large population of poor households within the fold of formal financial system.

ACCESS Holding Ventures India Pvt. Ltd. is the holding company of ACCESS and its specialized affiliates. The company plays an advisory role and binds the affiliates around a common vision. Additionally, ACCESS Ventures undertakes technical and consulting assignments on behalf of ACCESS.

Ode to Earth was set up to help and link small producers to high value mainstream markets through business intelligence, advisory and design support. Envisaged as a gateway agency between primary producer and consumers, Ode to Earth supports over 100 producer groups and organizations in around eight locations across the country.
